

Abstract

A microsurgical endo-illuminator is provided with a distal end portion of an optic fiber that projects from a tubular sleeve of the illuminator and can be caused to bend relative to the illuminator sleeve by manual manipulation of a mechanism on a handle of the illuminator.

42736.doc